

Ronnie Chalmers

Vice President, Air Liquide - Middle East, Africa & India

Ronnie joined Air Liquide in 2006. He is currently Vice President, supervising Africa, Middle East, and India (AMEI) since 2018. He is responsible for supporting all Air Liquide's activities across the AMEI region, notably advancing the healthcare industry and developing innovative solutions to meet the challenges of the energy and environment transition.

In his 15 years with Air Liquide, Ronnie has held diverse positions in many different geographies, including Chief Financial Officer of Air Liquide Japan Air Gases from 2006 to 2009, Director of the Large Industries European Platform from 2010 to 2011, Managing Director of Air Liquide Benelux Industries until 2016 and most recently Large Industries Vice President of the European hub.

Ronnie has been in the Gases business since joining a global industrial gas company in 1989 on a management development programme. Qualified in 1994 to be an associate of the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants, Ronnie has held a variety of financial and commercial roles across the Gases businesses in the US, Europe, and the Asia Pacific region.

Ronnie received his engineering degree in civil engineering from Heriot-Watt University in Edinburgh (UK), he is British and 54 years of age.